Very rare!

A wide-angle photograph of a rural landscape. In the foreground, there is a field of dry, brownish grass with several large, rounded haystacks. A green tractor is visible in the middle ground, working in a field of golden-brown crops. A low stone wall runs across the middle ground, separating the tractor's field from a greener area. In the background, there are rolling hills and a small, light-colored house with a dark roof. The sky is blue with some light clouds.
